

Northern Kentucky University's Department of Literature & Language and
The Friends of Steely Library present

GWYN HYMAN RUBIO

Author of the New York Times Bestseller
ICY SPARKS (an Oprah Book Club selection) and THE WOODSMAN'S DAUGHTER

Wednesday, March 15, 2006

7:00 p.m.

W. Frank Steely Library (Loggia)
Highland Heights, Kentucky

The reading, followed by a signing, is free and open to the public. Books will be available for purchase, with a portion of the sales benefiting the Friends of Steely Library.

"THE WOODSMAN'S DAUGHTER is so fine and beautiful that it becomes a completely transporting experience for the reader. This is an old-fashioned epic in all the best possible ways. Entrancing and sprawling, this book is thick with the powerful storytelling that creates not only a whole world for us but also presents one of the most memorable heroines I have ever encountered. Every word is perfectly chosen and every sentence is a beauty."

—Silas House, author of The Coal Tattoo and A Parchment of Leaves